UQ YOUNG ACHIEVERS PROGRAM

The UQ Young Achievers Program (UQYAP) aims to support the tertiary study and career aspirations of secondary school students from low-income families.

The Program provides a wonderful opportunity for community-minded university students to work closely with participants throughout Years 11 & 12 and as they transition from school to university.

UQ Students selected as Mentors for this Program play an invaluable role in building the self-confidence of Young Achievers while motivating and inspiring them to set and achieve their personal and educational goals.

UQYAP provides an extraordinarily fulfilling opportunity for Mentors, Staff and students alike.

Am I suited for this role?

Mentors are selected for the UQ Young Achievers Program from a variety of study areas, geographic regions and backgrounds based on the following:

- Male and female undergraduate students at UQ (aged 18-24 years by January 2018)
- Ability to obtain a Blue Card
- Openness and sensitivity to cultural and ethnic differences
- Ability to identify with young people from families who have experienced financial hardship as well as those from regional backgrounds
- Demonstration of excellent listening and communication skills and a passion for making a positive difference in the lives of others
- Motivated, respectful and committed to an ongoing, long-term and meaningful mentoring relationship
- Passionate about leadership and teamwork and able to serve as a positive role model for Young Achievers and other UQ Student Mentors.

UQ is committed to raising and supporting the educational aspirations of deserving students who might not otherwise have access to university as a post-school option. The Young Achievers Program is UQ's flagship equity program. Accordingly, Mentors for this Program are held in high esteem by participants and their families, secondary schools, Program Staff, Donors and the UQ Executive.

The role of a UQYAP Mentor

- A helpful and accessible point of contact for Young Achievers over a two-year period
- A positive role model, who will inspire students to develop their interpersonal, communication and service leadership skills
- A source of information, motivation and support (by phone, Facebook and email) on a regular basis
- A supervisor and activity facilitator during Residential Camps and Open Days, providing a safe environment and a rewarding experience for students to grow and learn

Applications

Closing date for Mentor applications:
Friday, 18 August 2017

Why should I apply?

There are many benefits to becoming involved as a volunteer UQYAP Mentor including the opportunity to:

- Inspire and make a difference in the lives of young people
- Showcase your commitment to giving back to those from less privileged backgrounds
- Participate in on-campus experiences for Young Achievers (Camps, Open Days etc.)
- Develop your interpersonal, leadership, teamwork and communication skills while improving your resume
- Make many life-long friends who share your service commitment
- Receive recognition from UQ in a variety of forms including ongoing training and professional development and team events
- Your time as a Mentor will contribute towards the UQ Employability Award (employability.uq.edu.au/uq-employability-award). This is a significant University Award which will be highly regarded by future employers.

Trinity Bloch
YAP Mentor

"The UQ Young Achievers Program is an incredibly rewarding program and has opened the doors to university and multiple other opportunities, which would otherwise be unavailable to me as a rural student. The environment that staff and mentors bring to the camps has empowered and shaped me into the person I am today. As a mentee and mentor, it has been such an honour to be involved in this program, and is an experience I will always cherish."

UQ YOUNG SCHOLARS PROGRAM

The UQ Young Scholars Program (YSP) provides talented UQ students with an opportunity to share their experiences of transitioning from school to university, with current high achieving secondary school students.

With your leadership and support, we aim to encourage and inspire these young people to engage with UQ's academic community and like-minded students through a variety of activities, organised as part of a five-day on-campus residential experience. It is the University's aim to ensure the UQ Young Scholars Program is a fun, interactive and enjoyable experience for staff, mentors and students alike.

Am I suited for this role?

The Young Scholars Program is UQ's flagship academic extension and enrichment Program designed to attract high achieving secondary school students to UQ. Accordingly, Mentors for this Program are held in high esteem by participants, UQ Staff and the UQ Executive.

Mentors are selected for the UQ Young Scholars Program from a variety of study areas, geographic regions and backgrounds, based on the following criteria:

- Male and female undergraduate students at UQ (aged 18-24 years by November 2017)
- Ability to obtain a Blue Card
- Professionalism, energy and motivation and the ability to identify with and relate to young people from a diverse range of backgrounds
- Demonstration of excellent communication skills and the ability to nurture academic excellence in participants
- Passionate about leadership and teamwork and able to serve as a positive role model for Young Scholars and other UQ Student Mentors.

Bryce Berrell
YSP Senior Mentor

"Being a Senior Mentor for YSP is a truly rewarding experience. I have an opportunity to network and connect with like-minded university students to mentor Queensland's most inspiring and unique high school students. I have learnt many skills that will assist me not only professionally, but personally as well. YSP provides encouragement, motivation and inspiration to all and I am honoured to be apart of such an incredible program."

FAQS

What happens if I can't make all of the dates?

We understand that students have various other commitments, which is why we provide you with a list of key dates and times in the brochure. All training and camp dates are mandatory to attend, if you are selected to be a mentor in either Program.

Can International Students participate?

International students are more than welcome to participate, as long as they are a student at The University of Queensland for the duration of their time commitment to either Program.

Can postgraduate students apply to be a student mentor?

Postgraduate students are ineligible to apply to be a student mentor.

Kristy Armitage
YSP Mentor

"Being a YSP mentor is the most unreal experience. You're surrounded by 200+ like-minded, enthusiastic, motivated young people, and you get to play this incredible role in their lives, as they embark on a life-changing journey. It's a fun-filled, non-stop, high energy week, where you get the opportunity to inspire and be inspired in return."

Kyle Britto
YAP Mentor

"The Young Achievers Program has been one of my favourite aspects of university life. The impact this program makes on the lives of the mentees is incredible. It has driven students to reach higher than they ever thought imaginable, and realise that their dreams can be a reality. Not only does this program impact the lives of students, but also mentors. I have made friends that I will keep with me for life, and the impact the students have on all the mentors is amazing."

What if I graduate half-way through?

This requirement differs for Young Achievers and Young Scholars.

- Young Achievers: Mentors are required to be a student at The University of Queensland for the duration of your time in the Program. For example if you wanted to be a Young Achievers mentor your graduation date would have to be in December two years from your year of application.
- Young Scholars: Mentors are required to be a student at The University of Queensland at the time the camp is run. For example, if you wanted to be a Young Scholars mentor then you could be a mentor at camp this year and graduate in December or beyond.

Inspire and make a difference in the lives of young people
